For Boys from Three to Twelve.

For boys of tender years we would advise a jersey costume first and foremost. These dresses enjoy great favor for boys of three to twelve years; we mean, of course, for the latter jersey suits; what is so refreshing as to see little fellows between the ages of six and eight exercising their limbs in their knee-breeches and blouses made of a material which gives out at every movement of the body, and yet fits so close as to show off shapely limbs. There are so many pretty stuffs, too, in jersey or stockingette, some of which are extremely soft and supple, and even figured jersey cloths are to be obtained at a very reasonable price, although the colors may not suit the taste of some parents; for instance, reds and bright blues are not quite the thing at present, but to look well a jaunty cap of the same material must be worn. A brewer's cap or hat a la chinois is preferable with short curly hair, but with long straight locks a high-crowned hat placed a little on one side of the head is more pleasing and becoming.

At the best houses in Paris and London particularly, handsome jersey and serge dresses are being made up for boys of five or seven years, which is the age when fancy may be allowed free play and the most tasteful combinations are seen. Perhaps it may assist some of our correspondents in arranging the wardrobes of their sons more to their satisfaction, if we describe, for instance, a few dresses shown us at the private rooms of a most fashionable, gentleman-like merchant tailor, who politely permitted us a sight of his latest productions on this head. The first costume displayed, intended for walking, was composed of a dark red serge jacket something like a paletot, reaching more than half-way over a kilted skirt of the same, ornamented with a number of rows of very narrow bright blue braid; an immense sailor collar going down very deep in front, with a white front crossed over by bands of the braid, a small standing ruche, and blue velvet band-cuffs, corresponding with the collar, completed with the jacket; blue and red stockings and a Chinese felt hat would be the proper finish for such a such a dress. A second costume of black stockingette, with red pipings, small turn-down collar and full sleeves drawn into red wristbands, and a broad red sash looped with fringed ends behind; another style was a full blouse with mighty pockets at the waist, beneath a long redingote-like wrap, opening wide in front, and a coachman's collar of the same stuff as the latter, bound with colored flannel, of which the under suit was composed. A small pointed hat with turned-up brim, rosette, and two feather aigrettes fastened by clasps, made this costume suitable morning attire for the parks or a fashionable watering place.

Trowsers are not allowed to be seen on such styles, as also those entirely of full blouses and kilted skirts made in one, the blouse being sewn on at the left side and turned over to give a puffy appearance; some indeed are laid in loose pleats at the sides to agree with the skirt, and have a bow in front.—The Season.

The Shadows of Virtue.

We hear a good deal said about a "good form"—as if anything but good form were not chaos and altogether formless—and it has always seemed to us that people who have the expression perpetually upon their lips reveal a lack of acquaintance with it, while they doubtless flatter themselves, like those who try to impress us by the frequent mention of titled notables they have met, that it signifies their close intimacy with all that is high-bred and delightful. To be constantly agitated about what is "good" and what is "bad form," to feel the eternal necessity of being on the alert in respect to it, involves the confession of a recent familiarity with the affair, betrays unsettled convictions in regard to it, that one is not to the manner born, since we seldom discourse about those things which are every day matters to us, as natural as breathing; and if one talks too fluently about the luxuries of the table, the expensiveness of one's dress, the appointments of home, the listener has naturally a right to suspect that these are things to which one has not been long accustomed. When a person tells us, without rhyme or reason, that she keeps seven servants or more, we decide at once that it is something quite new to her, and probably in violent contrast to the time when she was her own handmaiden; or when she adorns her native language with a passementerie of French phrases, we involuntarily feel as if the foreign tongue is like a recently imported toy to her. The gentleman, like the poet, is born gentle; "to be great in great things and elegant in little things" is natural to him and spontaneous, he is not obliged to learn it from books of etiquette or visits to foreign lands. Perfect manners are a part of the character as much as patience and honesty, and their beneficence is displayed not only toward the just, but the unjust; in fact, they seem to belong to the texture of the wearer's mind, to be a reflection of the spirit of justice which would give everybody his due, withholding no civility or kindliness; and how true it is, as some one has said, that they make the same impression with personal beauty—indeed, beauty without them is not beautiful, but inharmonious and unbecoming; they gild the plainest features, and physical deformities are forgotten in their presence; they are the wand that throws open the doors of secret salons, and no spell of fairy god-mother is so potent as they are, provided they are never the sport of moods. We fancy that are judged in this respect by our equals or superiors only, but it is the poor relation, the serving-man and sewing-women, the beggar at our door, the unfortunate seeking work, not charity, or the book agent, who can bear testimony whether our manners are "the shadows of virtue" living within our hearts, or the gaudy tinsel of a dress parade.—Harper's Bazar.

—The newly found Hebrew MSS. of several books of the Old Testament have been carefully examined and deciphered by Dr. Harkavy, of St. Petersburg, who declares them genuine. He was at first inclined to be skeptical as to their genuineness, having the frauds of the Shapira manuscripts in mind.

Very Remarkable Recovery.

Mr. Geo. V. Willing, of Manchester, Mich., writes. "My wife has been almost helpless for five years, so helpless that she could not turn over in bed alone. She used two bottles of Electric Bitters, and is so much improved, that she is able now to do her own work."

Electric Bitters will do all that is claimed for them. Hundreds of testimonials attest their great curative powers. Only fifty cents a bottle at Swearingen & Hubbards. a2

Empress Eugenie and her Son.

I have seen the ex-Empress Eugenie at table perhaps a dozen times, and I never saw any one eat so little that seemed to be in as good health as she did. Her son (poor boy!) however, made up for her, for he had a very healthy appetite. While at Shoeburyness Military School he had several photographs taken by one of the soldiers, who had some talent that way, and he gave me a copy with his autograph on it. Another embryo artist at Shoeburyness wished to make a plaster bust of the young Prince, and accordingly they arranged the sand and mud to take the mold, and he got down on his knees and bravely pushed his greased face into the mud, but not far enough to suit the artist, who put his hands on the young Napoleon's neck and pushed it still further in. When the plaster cast was taken out there was a nose like a gourd squash about a foot long, as the plaster had somehow forced a channel for itself. This remarkable bust now stands on a pedestal in the mess-room at Shoeburyness, and is marked Napoleon IV. To think of the brave, bright young man as I knew him, full of life and boyish earnestness, as having died as he died makes my heart ache for him, and more for the mother who loved him so. After my visit to Chislehurst I never saw either of them again.—Olive Harper's Reminiscences.

An Editor's Tribute.

Theron P. Keator, editor of the Ft. Wayne, Ind., Gazette, writes: "For the past five years have always used Dr. King's New Discovery, for coughs of the most severe character, as well as for those of a milder type. It never fails to effect a speedy cure. My friends to whom I have recommended it speak of it in same high terms. Having been cured by it of every cough I have had for five years, I consider it the only reliable and sure cure for coughs, colds, etc." Call at Swearingen & Hubbard's drug store and get a Free Trial Bottle. WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT 29, 1884.

YOUNG men The giants of mythology typified the strength of young men, in the enlightened era of the Christian dispensation young men were strong. To-day the strength of the Republican party is in the young men of the country, of whom it possesses a vast majority. The young man is always good for two votes, his own and the one he brings. No party in the history of this country has ever been beaten that had the sympathy and support of the young men of the country, and it has been the chief gratification of the tour I have made that everywhere I have found the young men on our side. You are in the morning of life. The day is before you and your strength is equal to it. You will have the fashioning of the Republic of its strength, its prestige, its glory, its destiny long after the generation to which I belong shall have passed away. See to it that it is kept in your power and in your hands, and that your hands, clean, pure and strong, shall bear up the Ark of the Covenant. I bid you good morning. Let us turn together to the duties of a new day with its responsibilities and, I hope, with its reward.
James G. Blaine, at Cincinnati.

The Great Rally.

The Republican demonstration yesterday was undeniably the greatest of its kind ever witnessed in Decatur. To say that it was a marked success in every respect is only to repeat the comment that is upon everybody's lips. The day was perfect—bright, sunny and balmy, and the crowd felt the inspiring influence of the weather. The attendance was larger than at any previous political meeting held here, the speech of Gen. Logan was a masterpiece of fervid eloquence, which held the closest attention of the multitude before him, the torchlight procession in the evening, and the brilliant illuminations and decorations, far surpassed anything ever before seen in Decatur, the evening meeting at the tabernacle was one of the best and most enthusiastic ever seen anywhere, and, in short, everything connected with the demonstration was a most marked and gratifying success. Decatur Republicans can well plume themselves upon having had the best demonstration of the campaign in this region—one that will long be remembered with feelings of just pride, and one which will undoubtedly result in good to the cause.

OUR irate neighbor of the Review had just as well not waste any breath in abusing Mayor Chambers on account of the use of the park yesterday by the Republicans. No amount of effort upon its part, or upon the part of the Democratic heads of masses, will avail to stop the tide that is setting in so strongly in this locality against the party of the solid South, and no exhibition of feigned indignation with reference to the acts of our local officials will be sufficient to conceal the real reason of their wrath, which is nothing more than desperation over the fact that they realize that defeat is awaiting them at the polls next week; that it is useless for them to hope for success then, just as it would be useless for them to attempt to surpass the demonstration of yesterday. As they cannot do anything else they can growl, and they choose to make Mayor Chambers the subject of their wail. We have no apology to offer for that gentleman. He has acted in a perfectly unpartisan manner. The Democrats can have the same privilege the Republicans had, if they want it, and he has so informed them.

THE statement of the Herald this morning, to the effect that there was no meeting at the tabernacle last night, reads strangely to the 3,000 or 3500 people who crowded that edifice to its utmost capacity, and listened to the ringing speeches of Col. Donan, Squire Nesian, of Moultrie county, and Col. E. R. Ros. It was a decidedly lively meeting.

THE poultry exhibition last night surpassed anything of the kind ever seen here. The birds were larger and fatter, and marched with more stately and dignified tread than any Democratic rooster that ever crowed.

THE Review for once is generous to its opponents. Its estimate of the procession last night, 16,000 to 18,000, is even larger than any Republican claimed, by some hundreds, but as we did not personally count the torchbearers we are willing to let the thing go at the Review's enumeration.

ROWELL at the court house to-morrow evening—Hon. M. C. Quinn, of Peoria, Friday evening. Dr. John M. Gregory at the court house Saturday evening. Let all be greeted by full houses.

IF anybody asks how many torches were in line last night refer them to the Review.

DECATUR was a blaze of glory last night.

CARTER HARRISON recently stated that any man who would refuse to vote for Cleveland on account of the Maria Halpin affair was a "d—d knave," with much other language unfit for publication. Finding that this statement was liable to hurt him with the voters, he promptly denied ever having used it. And now Carter is confronted with the sworn statement of John Hamilton, J. C James and James H Clark of Coles county, who, with a number of others, were present and heard the words, that he not only did say so, but also made the statement in a much more obscene and vulgar manner than was originally reported.

THE report of the Postoffice Department for the last fiscal year shows a deficiency in receipts of $2,593,137, which is conformable to the estimates of the department officials last year. The falling off is due to the reduction in the letter rate and will be partially compensated by the increase in money order business. Last year there was a surplus of $2,053,189.

A GOOD reason to apprehend Cleveland's acquiescence in a party attack on the National bank currency may be found in the fact that a large and influential class in New York would favor a return to the State bank issue of circulating notes. In the old time days of stump-tail and wild-cat currency the New York banks enjoyed special advantages. New York money was the best in the country, as a rule, and it gave the Eastern metropolis many gains which will be obvious to business men. New York is to-day much more of a money centre than it was twenty five years ago. With the present system of National currency, consisting of gold, silver, Government notes (greenbacks), National bank notes, and gold and silver certificates, which are distributed throughout the entire country and are of equal and uniform value everywhere, the New York opportunities for manipulating the money market are much rarer than they would be if the country were reduced to the makeshift of a fluctuating currency made up of all kinds of shinplasters of varying and uncertain value. It is only necessary for a Democratic Congress to pass and a Democratic President to sign a bill repealing the 10 per cent. tax on State issues of currency in order to revive the old state bank system. Would not Cleveland as President, be immediately subject to the very influences in New York favorable to this change, advise and assist the Democratic party to a currency revolution?"

OBITUARY.

JANE M. SMITH was born in Dumfries, Scotland, March 26th, 1818. Died Oct. 26, 1884, aged 64 years, 7 months. She was the wife of George Smith, who is left alone in his old age. Aunt Janette was one of the noble women of earth; to know her was to love her. She embraced the christian religion in Scotland while very young, lived her profession through life and died in the triumphs of faith. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Charles Lewis. Her funeral was preached by Rev O B Huston, from the text, "There will be no night there" Rev. 21 25, to a large audience of friends. She was interred in the Boiling Springs cemetery.

Storm Signals.

As the coming of a great storm is heralded by the display of cautionary signals, so is the approach of that dread and fatal disease, Consumption of the Lungs, usually announced in advance by pimples, blotches, eruptions, ulcers, glandular swelling, and kindred outward manifestations of the internal blood poison, which if not promptly expelled from the system, attacks the delicate tissues of the lungs, causing them to ulcerate and break down. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is the great remedy for this, as for all diseases having their origin in bad blood. It improves the appetite and digestion, increases nutrition and builds up the wasted system.

NEW fall goods just received, of the latest design, and will be made upon the latest style and fit. AN AWFUL TRAGEDY.

A Woman Beaten to Death by Her Infuriated Mother-in-Law.

The Awful Sight Which Met the Gaze of Andrew Parker On His Return From Business in the Evening.

The Unhappy Man Impelled By a Sense of Duty to Reveal the Dreadful Truth—The Mother Arrested.

PALESTINE, TEX., October 28th.—Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, of Elkhart, was to-day lodged in jail in this place charged with murdering her daughter-in-law. The crime with which she is charged is most horrible in its details. Her son, Andrew Parker left home in the evening to attend to his business, leaving his wife and two little children with his mother. As Parker neared his home at about nine o'clock at night, he heard his wife screaming. He entered the house just in time to see his wife fall and expire, while over her body stood infuriated with anger, holding a heavy club in her hand. Parker's wife would have become a mother in a few weeks. The poor victim was beaten black and blue across the shoulders and abdomen. Parker kept the particulars of the terrible murder a secret for a few days, but finally concluded, in justice to his children, to let the law take its own course and swore out a warrant against his mother. A Coroner's inquest developed the above facts. No explanation is offered for the mother's brutal conduct towards her son's wife. The case is attracting great attention by reason of the fact that the sole witness against Mrs. Parker is her own son. She was held in default of $25,000 bail.

HIS OWN MOTHER,

The Youngstown Coal Mine Disaster.

UNIONTOWN, PA., October 29.—Mine Inspector Steiner and his assistants worked all of Monday night and until late yesterday morning removing the bodies of the dead and injured from the scene of the terrible explosion at the Youngstown mine Monday evening. The dead were fully identified by friends, and are as follows:

Joseph Zebley, pump-tender, married.
Solomon Van Sicale, miner, married.
William Minor, miner, married.
James Price, the father, and James Price, his son, miners.
Thomas Cole, miner, married.
Jesse Miller, the father, and Jesse, his son, miners.
H. J. Sape, rope-rider, married.
Albert Taylor, miner.
Abe Wilson, miner, married.
Frank Niclow and Willie, his son, married.
George Cunningham.
Fourteen in all.

The dead were found in every conceivable shape. Some were burned to a crisp. The greater number, however, were suffocated by afterdamp.

The following were saved alive, but more or less burned and bruised:

Welsh Keffer.
Frank Miller.
Jacob Cole.
David Cole.
James Darby.
Jerry Ringer.
Chauncey Wilson.

The two latter may yet die. The funerals will take place to-day. The Coroner's inquest will be held to-morrow.

Run Down by a Train—A Rattled Gate-Keeper.

PITTSBURGH, PA., October 29.—About 5:30 last evening two gentlemen named Richard Ford and John Elliott, attempted to drive a team and wagon across the track of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway at the Woods Run (a city suburb) crossing ahead of an approaching train. The gate-keeper becoming excited, dropped the safety gate, hemming the team within. Elliot jumped from the wagon, while Ford was thrown violently on the track and had both legs cut off. The engine struck both horses, killing one instantly, and throwing it to the side of the track, striking Peter Farley, a bystander, with terrific force, injuring him so severely that he died in a few moments. Farley was a candidate for Mayor of Allegheny before the last election.

Prosperous Idaho.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 29.—W. M. Bunn, Governor of Idaho, in his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior states that the funded debts of the Territory is but $69,268, and the population is 88,000 sufficient to secure Idaho's admission into the Union as a State. The assessed property of the Territory is $9,380,000—an increase of over fifty per cent. over last year. The principal industry of the Territory is mining. Governor Bunn says "the Coeur d'Alene belt is one of the richest mining districts in the country." The output of mineral wealth during the past year is estimated to have amounted to about $7,000,000. The Governor says that Mormons are coming from Utah into Idaho in great numbers.

Elected Without Opposition.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., October 29.—The Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago Railroad stockholders yesterday elected the following directors, without opposition: George Hoadly, Samuel J. Broadwell, George Wilshire, M. E. Ingalls, B. F. Evans, Lars Anderson, Henry Lewis, vice C. W. West, deceased, Geo. Bliss, C. P. Huntington, Joseph S. Fay, of Boston, R. R. Cable, Thomas A. Morris, and Allen M. Fletcher, vice T. A. Sharpe, the last two of Indianapolis. No dividend was declared, the four per cent. surplus having been applied to improvements. The Directors re-elected M. E. Ingalls, President, E. F. Osborn, Secretary and Treasurer.

Russians in Chicago.

CHICAGO, ILL., October 29.—Considerable comment has been excited over the report that Jews are excluded from membership in the First Regiment, I. N. G. It is said that a number of young Jews having joined a new company in the First Regiment, the remainder of the company brought to bear a sufficient amount of pressure to cause their withdrawal. It is said that while the company was in its infancy and needed recruits, a number of Jews of good character and reputation were enrolled; but as the company grew, the prejudice against them increased, and others of their race were refused admission, and finally those already members were asked to withdraw.

POLITICAL NEWS.

Governor Cleveland Visits New York and Reviews the National Guards.

Blaine Continues His Tour of the State, Bringing Up in the City of New York—Incidents of the Trip.

Great Irish-German Blaine Meeting at Chickering Hall—Vilas Nominated—Ratified.

Grover Cleveland in New York.

NEW YORK, October 29.—Governor Cleveland was up early yesterday morning, and after breakfast and the transaction of some private business, was besieged with callers. Among the latter were ex-Senator William H. Barnum, Senator McPherson, of New Jersey; Senator Gorman, of Maryland; Senator Michael C. Murphy and Senator Plunkett.

The Governor, in speaking about his reception in Newark, N. J., yesterday, said he was overjoyed at it.

At 2.10 p. m. the Governor left the Hoffman House in an open barouche drawn by four white horses, to review the parade of the First and Second Divisions of the National Guard. The Governor with his staff were driven to Fifth avenue and Sixtieth street, which was the extreme left of the line, the right being formed at Fifth avenue and Thirty-eighth street. It was not until 3.30 that the line was completed. At that hour, the Governor, amid the plaudits of the immense crowds that had assembled all along the line, inspected the two divisions. The Governor was then driven down Fifth avenue to the reviewing stand at the Worth monument at Madison Square. The entrance of the Governor to the grand stand was the signal for a general outburst of cheering from the multitudes that had assembled on the sidewalk and all in the streets in the vicinity of the stand. It was exactly four o'clock when the Governor, surrounding his staff, took up his position on the extreme right of the stand, and fifteen minutes later the Twenty-Second Regiment which had the right of the line, passed in review. Then followed the Eleventh, Ninth, Twelfth and Seventh regiments, protected from the rain by heavy overcoats. Their marching, however, despite the condition of the streets and the burden of their overcoats was excellent.

General Butler was a looker-on from a window of his rooms at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, opposite the reviewing stand. After the review Governor Cleveland with his staff of aides, and the commanders of the various regiments, was driven to the Hoffman House, where he was entertained at dinner by General Shaler.

Governor Cleveland, accompanied by Private Secretary Lamont and Adjutant-General Farnsworth, entered a carriage at the Hoffman House at 8:30 o'clock last evening and was driven to the Grand Central Depot, where he took the nine o'clock train for Albany.

End of the Tour of New York.

NEW YORK, October 29.—At 7:25 last evening Mr. Blaine's arrival in this city brought to an end his tour of the leading towns of New York State. At Susquehanna the train was no sooner at a standstill than it was surrounded by perhaps 5,000 people, nearly all the shops in town being closed, making the event a general holiday. A little Irish girl presented Mr. Blaine with a bouquet of flowers, and was rewarded with a kiss. This action was loudly applauded. The Republican candidate spoke of Pennsylvania being his native State, and that whenever he was at a loss for strong argument in favor of protection he pointed to the flourishing industries of Pennsylvania.

Lawrence Harmon, who was last year the Democratic candidate for Attorney-General of Illinois, but who is now a Republican, made a few subsequent remarks.

At Deposit about 5,000 people including, many ladies, welcomed Mr. Blaine, who repeated his previous speech. At Narrowsburg and Lackawaxen, large crowds were awaiting the appearance of the distinguished tourists

At the latter place a superb banner was suspended over the track, inscribed:

"LACKAWAXEN WELCOMES J. G. BLAINE."

At Port Jervis Mr. Blaine changed the tenor of his remarks to a glowing tribute to the greatness of the railroad industry, and Senator Warner Miller made a brief speech.

Middleton, being an agricultural and dairy center, Mr. Blaine adapted his remarks and for some minutes entertained a vast throng by rehearsing the benefits of a protective tariff. He also said that he had everywhere seen the Republican party united and strong, and he hoped to find the same condition of things in New York—no Stalwarts, no Half-Breeds, but everywhere Republican.

Silas B. Dutcher supplemented his leader's address, by saying that while Democrats alleged there was too great a surplus in the Treasury, let them but get control of our politics and there would be no surplus at all.

At Goshen Mr. Blaine compared the surrounding country to a land flowing with milk and honey. He also contrasted the wages paid American laborers to those received by the toilers of England and was cheered and tigered by a great crowd as the train moved on.

At Turner's and Suffern's Mr. Blaine only bowed his acknowledgments to the applause that went up from crowds of enthusiastic people amid cheers and booming cannon.

Paterson was reached at 6 p. m., and here not less than 20,000 people had assembled, and were so tumultuous and eager in their reception to their visitors that Mr. Blaine, who had intended to make a protracted address, found it impossible to hear his own voice.

Considerable time elapsed before Hon. William Walter Phelps secured silence, when Mr. Blaine called the attention of his hearers to the necessity of looking after the election of their Congressmen.

At Passaic, Mayor Bud M. Spencer, amid the blaze of fireworks, introduced the candidate, who spoke briefly.

At Rutherford, a similar programme was observed.

Among the amusing occurrences of the trip was the confusion that resulted from an extraordinary resemblance between Mr. Blaine and Senator Lyons, of St. Lawrence County, who was hailed as the Republican leader whenever he showed his face. At Elmira the people were so confident that he was Mr. Blaine that in their enthusiasm the Senator was taken to the hotel in a carriage drawn by several hundred men.

The excellent train service and arrangements at the stations along the Erie Road were heartily commended by the committee, and all those on board the special train. Schedule time was strictly observed. This was a largely due to the perfect system arranged by General Passenger Agent John N. Abbott, who accompanied the party.

Joint Irish and German Blaine Meeting.

NEW YORK, October 29.—A joint mass meeting of Irish and German American citizens in support of Blaine and Logan was held last night in Chickering Hall. Speeches were made denouncing Cleveland's free trade proclivities and attacking foreign pauper labor. Ferdinand Vogeler, of Ohio, arraigned Carl Schurz at length. Walker Blaine and Senator Hale, of Maine, entered the hall as Dr. Hamilton Williams, of Brooklyn, concluded a speech on the tariff, and were tremendously cheered.

When Mr. Blaine arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, he found awaiting him Mrs. Blaine, Miss Blaine and Miss M. A. Dodge (Gail Hamilton). During the evening the President of the Irish-American Independents called to escort him to the meeting at Chickering Hall. Mr. Blaine begged to be excused on the ground that he was exhausted, and Mr. Walker Blaine proceeded to the Hall to explain his father's absence.

The former briefly excused his father's absence on account of fatigue, and the latter made a few remarks on the protection of American labor, when the meeting adjourned.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 29.—At 1:40 a. m. Governor Cleveland and party arrived by the New York Central, and entering carriages, were at once driven to the Executive Mansion. There was no demonstration.

Vilas Nominated.

MADISON, WIS, October 29.—Colonel William F. Vilas was nominated by the Democrats for the State Assembly last evening. His friends say he will accept, and thus put an end to the allegations that he was unwilling to bear the burdens of his party. It is predicted that he will be elected Speaker of the Assembly, and if it shall be Democratic will succeed Cameron in the United States Senate.

Nominations Ratified.

NEW YORK, October 29.—The New York County Democracy and Irving Hall held a meeting at the Academy of Music last night to ratify the Democratic National and county nominations. Henry Clausen presided and after speeches had been made by Hon. George L. Converse, of Ohio, and Hon. William A. Wallace, of Pennsylvania, resolutions were adopted indorsing the Democratic National and county tickets.

THE SCOTT LAW DECISION.

Effect of the Ruling on County and City Governments.

COLUMBUS, O., October 29.—The decision of the Supreme Court that the Scott law is unconstitutional will bankrupt nearly all the cities in the State, as levies for the year were made on the supposition that the law was constitutional and would bring into the Treasuries of counties and cities a stipulated amount of money. In Columbus, for example, between $15,000 and $50,000 were realized from the tax list and none of the amount has been paid this year. The great question with municipal and county authorities is how they will secure immediate relief from the embarrassing situation, the Legislature not being in session to grant authority.

THE TRANSPARENCIES.

Below are a few of the appropriate inscriptions on the transparencies carried in the Republican torch-light procession last night.

Hold on, Grover—Maine 21,000, Ohio 17,000; gain 26,000. American protection—big dog. English free trade—little pup.

A voice for Cleveland: "I want my papa."

With Blaine, the statesman, and Logan, the soldier, we defy the world.

Blaine has done away with Chinese labor.

Cleveland, standing in veto quicksand, cries, "Help, workingmen, I'm sinking—veto 5-cent car fare bill."

Ohio—Carry the news to Schurz.

The treacherous Germans did it—Chicago Times, Oct. 15.

Harrison's great speech—"I."

Uncle Dick has been tried.

40,000 majority for Oglesby.

Cleveland wears a 19½ collar and a 6⅛ hat.

We camp in no graveyard.

I want my pa—Baby Mine.

Cleveland and free trade—Blaine and protection.

American wages for American workingmen.

Picture of Grover and Maria, with a child crying, "I want my pa."

A home market is the result of a protective tariff.

"Encouragement of every form of American industry."—Blaine.

"Protection to every citizen at home and abroad."—Blaine.

With Blaine, Logan and Oglesby—Victory!

All tail—the Democratic Kangaroo ticket.

A vote for Blaine is a vote for protection.

We vote for Jim, Jack and Dick.

Grover Cleveland to Mrs. Beecher: "What shall I say to one who writes so much like my mother?" No, I don't altogether mean that, I don't know where any such women lived. I have never seen in Albany a bad woman."

Boody Haymakers—No Harrison in Ours.

As goes Maine, so goes the Nation. Let the Democratic Party Die.

The Tuscola Young Ladies Broom Brigade had this on their banner:

"Blaine is the man!
We can't vote,
But our daddies can."

Oglesby—Always faithful.

There are no colored Democrats.

Protection to American Labor.

"We are after Cleveland's scalp," was the Peoria transparency and the Pekin Germans had this: "How do you like the Germans on the Rhine" and this: "The Germans vote for Old Dick."

Sucker state good for 50 000

A Solid South means a Solid North.

AUNT RACHEL' JOY.

Rev. W. B Evans, Washington, D. C, writes: "Aunt Rachel, the dear old colored saint, who has been a constant sufferer with Inflammatory Rheumatism for 16 years, has been greatly benefitted by ATHLOPHOROS. I consider it almost in the light of a miracle. She is almost beside herself with joy. The pain has all left her limbs. A little stiffness remains, but another bottle will effect a permanent cure. It is indeed a most wonderful medicine. I think it ought to be spread throughout the length and breadth of this land."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Austin Hartwell is getting better.

Miss Maggie Brennon is captain of the Tuscola Broom Brigade.

G. M. Glassco, of the Tuscola Journal, paid his respects to this office yesterday evening.

Mrs. Mary C. Willard and children, of Whitesboro, Texas, are visiting relatives and friends in this city.

Mrs. E. R. Colwell, of Little Rock, Ark., is in the city visiting her daughter Mrs. J. E. Ewald.

Benj Samuels, of Mansfield, La., is in the county on a visit to friends. He will return south with a bride.

Miss Katie Pope was the lucky holder of ticket number 17, which drew a handsome large wax cross and globe at the Catholic fair last week.

Charles P. Housum has been confined to his home by illness since his return from a fishing excursion. He has a severe cold.

Capt. S. M. Lake, of the postoffice department, Washington, D. C., arrived in the city this morning, and is the guest of his brother, J. O. Lake.

Dr. Cass Chenoweth is in receipt of an invitation to join a Peoria hunting party going through Kansas to Arizona on a special car. Fare $75 for round trip; time of absence a month.

Hon. Dawson Lyon, a retired capitalist and influential Republican, of Washington, Ind., has been in the city visiting his son, Henry Lyon, the grocer. He saw the Black Eagle yesterday and heard his speech.

Rev. J. H. Lockwood, of Beloit, Kan., is in the city, to attend the wedding of his niece, Miss Helen Moore. This morning he was around town calling upon the friends of his youth, who knew him and remember him as "Jack," and who are glad to learn that he has been successful in his chosen profession, and that he enjoys a high reputation in the state of his doption.

GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY.

THE CLIMAX OF ALL POLITICAL DEMONSTRATIONS IN DECATUR.

Telling Speech by Gen. John A. Logan and Cheers by Ten Thousand People.

Live Eagle Presented to the General.

Unbounded Enthusiasm in all Parts of the City.

Dazzling and Monster Torch-Light Procession and Fire Works at Night.

The Streets All Ablaze With Illuminations.

The Republicans had full possession of Decatur yesterday, from early morn until late at night, and all day and evening the big political demonstration was one round of unbounded enthusiasm, which but reflected the earnestness of the advocates of Blaine and Logan and protection.

THE AFTERNOON MEETING.

The arrival and reception of General Logan at 9 a. m, was noted fully in these columns last evening. At 2 o'clock the General was escorted from Mr. James Millikin's residence to the decorated stand in the park by bands of music, the Escort Club and visiting companies. All along the route and at the park the General was vigorously cheered by the enthusiastic crowd, and so dense was the crowd and so eager the old soldiers to grasp the Black Eagle by the hand, that it was difficult for the distinguished speaker to leave the carriage and ascend the steps leading to the stand. The ovation was general and cheer upon cheer rent the air. The stand was crowded with members of the reception committee, and for a few moments the General was kept busy shaking hands with those who pressed forward.

The exercises were opened with singing by the Tuscola Glee Club. Their selections were: "United We Stand," "Old Shady," "Bye, Cleveland, Bye," and "There'll be no Cleveland There." The songs won shouts of approval and cheers.

GEN. LOGAN'S SPEECH.

J. R. Mosser, president of the Blaine and Logan Club, called the meeting of 10,000 up-turned faces to order, and in appropriate words, presented the speaker, Gen. Logan, who spoke for over an hour. The General could not speak for several moments because of the warm greeting that he received from the old soldiers and citizens generally. He was often interrupted by remarks of approval and shouts, "Jack you're right!" "Give it to 'em John." By an old soldier: He's giving us a regular Champion Hill fight!" "Right he is;" and such expressions. The speech was a telling effort from first to last and made many votes in Decatur for the Republican ticket. The General said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: I shall have to ask you to be patient with me. I have spoken much and my voice is considerably weakened, but I desire to discuss some of the questions of paramount importance to you and to all the American people. The history of the two great political parties is well known to you all, and, not stopping to recount that history, I will call your attention to the Republican platform, to the course of the Republican party heretofore, to its status at the present time, and to what it promises hereafter. To ascertain what they will do you must examine their past. Examine history for the twenty years just past, and for the twenty years preceding that. Examining this, the people ought to be satisfied with the Republican party until they find something better. [Applause.] When the Republican party started out in 1861 it asserted that this country had the powers of self-preservation, that all should have the same chance in the race of life, and that "liberty to all mankind" was a decree from Heaven. Legislation should be such that the people should have an opportunity to obtain homes in the west, that we should have a good currency, and protection to American labor and industry. [Applause.] Whether it has been carried out is for the people to determine. That the country could defend itself has been determined. (Applause.) They determined that we all should have equal rights before the law, and that all should be free. (Applause.) Secondly, the homestead law, giving to every head of a family a home after certain prerequisites have been complied with. This law was opposed by the Democratic party and Mr. Buchanan vetoed the bill and said the government did not have the power to give the government lands away as homesteads. When the Republican party took possession your credit was a public disgrace. The government could not borrow money except at 12 per cent. To-day, if we had to, we could borrow at 3 per cent., but we don't have to, and our bonds are drawing only 3 per cent. (Loud cheers.) Under Democratic rule you could not cross a state line without having your money discounted, and every man had to carry a detector. To-day the young people do not know what a detector is. In these Republican days you only examine the denomination of the bill. (Laughter and applause.) Our greenbacks pass at par in England, France, Germany, Belgium and all over the civilized world. (Applause.) That is Republican currency. You could not have it better. We have one solidified government to-day. (Applause.) All these things have been accomplished against the opposition of the Democratic party. (Applause and cries of "You are right.") Your territories have been settled by your homestead laws, natives and foreigners coming here and pre-empting their homes. One-half dozen territories stand ready to-day to be admitted to the Union.

You Democrats tried to spread slavery. That ceased at the dictation of the Republican party. You advocated English industry as opposed to American industry. We propose to close that book. (Cheers) We propose to close it with notice to the Democracy that it shall never be opened to put the Democratic party in power in this country. (Loud cheers.) In 1846 Polk promised that the tariff of 1842 should not be disturbed, but the Democracy destroyed it and established a tariff for revenue only, the same as they propose to-day. Under a tariff for revenue only, in those days, England sold her products largely in this country, and out of 540 furnaces in this country 250 went out of operation. This state of affairs continued until 1861. You manufactured nothing, paid more for clothing, hats and other wearing apparel. To-day you are wearing American clothes bought cheaper (applause) than they were bought then. We are living under a protective tariff. What is the result? The Democrats say: Buy where you can buy cheapest, and sell where you can sell dearest. Very good as a theory, but how does it work? Under free trade they sold calico at 40 cents a yard. The suit I have on which cost $30 would have sold then for $75, and would have been of English manufacture. (Applause and laughter.) Free trade means to abolish American factories and sell higher. Under protection the people have invested in factories. The coal fields have opened to furnish fuel for the smelting furnaces. Factories have increased. You now manufacture goods amounting to $5,250,000,000 per year, and all but 8 per cent. of it is sold to American people. If made abroad the land would be drained of money. Now we pay our money to our citizens. All are employed. All the children go to school, and you can't tell the rich man's child from the poor man's child. (Cheers) "Buy cheapest" applied to England when we bought English iron at $60 per ton. Steel rails in 1860 cost us, in England, $120 and $125 per ton. Now, we make them in America for all the world at $27.50 per ton. (Applause) The Canada Central R. R. company offered to receive bids for furnishing steel rails. America got the contract and furnished them at $25.50 per ton, and we pay thrice the amount for the labor that England did at $125 per ton. We force competetion at home. Labor cannot be pauperized here as in England (applause), owing to our system of government. They couldn't run their machine and pauperize labor. We have shown that we can manufacture for ourselves. Under Democratic rule you could not get decent prices for your pork, your corn, your wheat or your stock. Buchanan in 1858 said our credit was gone. Mr. Walker after 1848 said unless there was a change the government would be ruined. No change was made and ruin came. Up to 1861 there never was a complete carriage made in the United States. Steel springs and the trimmings were got in England. Ohio last year sold more carriages than England and France both in the same time. (Applause) In 1860 you bought watches in the old country. A watch like that [Here Gen. Logan held up the silver watch made in Illinois, which was presented to him last week at Springfield by a delegation from the southern part of the state.] sold at $25. This was bought at Elgin and cost $10. (Cheers and laughter.) It occurred in this way: We put a tariff on watches. Men invested in watch factories in this country. Last year 15 millions sold in this country and you have the watches in your pockets, and the money stayed in your own country. (Cheers) They say to the farmers: You are taxed, you are robbed. How much robbery is there in a ten-dollar watch? (Laughter) You look like a ruined crowd. (Laughter) Have you ever raised anything you couldn't sell? (A voice: "Yes, pork.") What did you get for pork in 1857? (Another voice: "$2.") No, you didn't: I took hogs to market myself, and we got $1.25 for 160 lbs hogs in 1857. You paid 40c for calico for a dress for your wife, and then she looked like she had been stuffed into a meal sack. (Great laughter) Under Democratic rule you required your hens to lay eggs at the rate of three for a cent. (Laughter) So with everything.

How about labor? They say labor was high in 1861. We had nearly 2,000,000 enlisted as soldiers. To-day 2,750,000 are in factories and are non-producers. We have 4,000,000,000 in this country beside, who are consumers and not producers. The more such, the greater your market. And yet you are told you have no home market.

I see a great many of my old comrades here. [Loud cheers and confusion, one old soldier trying to climb upon the reporter's table in front of the speaker's stand to get to shake Logan by the hand.] You used muskets that shot harder at the butt than in front. [laughter] bought in Belgium. We couldn't furnish an army then. Now $2,500,000 invested in Boston in a manufactory, where they make guns of all calibre. We can now make guns for the world. Protection stimulated those manufactures.

In 1870 the wealth of the country was $14,000,000,000. In 1880 it was $44,000,000,000—more of an increase than for 250 years preceding 1860. This was partly owing to the soil and the intelligence of the people. But the soil has changed. The people now are encouraged to labor. They don't burn their corn now. They sell a horse now for $150 that they sold then for $10. To-day men are employed to till the farms which are worth $10,000,000,000. 2,750,000 persons are employed in manufacture; 10,000,000 are employed in mining iron, coal, copper, silver, gold and all that goes to make wealth. They make risks now that they never took before. I am an American citizen, and so are you. [Applause.] We stand on the same plane up to a certain point. I am for American labor, American capital, American factories, American industries. Let England take care of herself. [Great cheers.] We are not required to take care of England. I am in favor of producing and buying and selling in our own country. We buy of each other five times as much as England sells to the entire world. Let us go on. It has benefitted and will benefit us.

This government is based upon the will of the people, ascertained through the ballot box, and any man or set of men who will prevent a free ballot are unworthy the confidence of the people. [Cheers.] Not seven states in this Union could be carried by the Democracy if the people were allowed to vote. [Cheers, repeated cheers.] They now try to intimidate and shoot men who try to vote. Will you allow men, by intimidation and fraud, to take charge of this government? [No! No!] The Democracy south always did control the Democracy north, and they do it now. [That's it! That's it! Loud cheers.] They are now intimidating in the north. In Chicago, under the leadership of Carter Harrison, they have located polling places in saloons, and low, out-of-the-way places, such as never before were heard of north of the Ohio river.

I want to see you elect gallant Old Dick, and [loud and enthusiastic cheering] bury this demagogue so deep that the trump of the resurrection cannot reach him. I want a Republican house of congress. The Democratic house has tried to reduce the tariff and has scared capital. Capital refused to invest. Elect a Republican legislature, and last but not least, elect a man who can steer the grand old ship of state, an able, scholarly man, a statesman, no man better qualified for President—that man is James G. Blaine. [Great cheering.] So far as the Democratic candidate is concerned I have nothing to say. [Laughter.] His letter of acceptance no one could understand, but he recently wrote another letter which we can understand.

Now I have talked to you until I am quite hoarse, and I thank you for your kind attention. The people of Illinois have always been over-grateful to me, and at the bottom of my heart I thank them for the benefits I have received at their hands.

GIFT OF A LIVE EAGLE.

While the General was speaking the Tuscola delegation including 30 young ladies carrying brooms marched to the stand and caused a moment's diversion, and when the cheers at the close of the speech had subsided, the young ladies were invited to places on the stand. Then a pleasing incident was witnessed. On behalf of the Tuscola people, Mr. G. M Abbott, of the I. B. & W. office at Tuscola, formally and in a neat speech presented General Logan with a live American eagle in a large cage, which was surmounted by a "40 rounds" cartridge box, the badge of the 15th Army Corps. The General received the gift with expressions of grateful thanks, and then shook hands with each of the young ladies, Mr. Abbott and others on the stand.

There was more singing by the Glee club and the great crowd dispersed.

Gen and Mrs. Logan, Isaac Clements and A B. Hall left for Centralia at 4 o'clock on the Logan special train.

THE CROWD AT NIGHT.

The streets began filling up early in the evening, making a show of over 20,000 people about town, all anxious to witness the parade and admire the illuminations. While the crowd waited for the procession to move delivered a rattling speech at the tabernacle in the presence of an attentive audience which completely filled the large room. The Colonel spoke for an hour and a quarter and was cheered to the echo again and again. The Colonel is one of the most effective campaign speakers in the country, knows how to talk about the south, its bulldozing white population. He had no trouble in holding his crowd. The greatest difficulty was to find seating and standing room for all who wanted to hear the splendid speech. Short speeches were made by 'Squire Nealan, of Dalton City, and Col. E. R. Roe, and the Tuscola glee club sang songs.

COL. PAT DONAN

THE TORCH PAGEANT.

Owing to the delay in waiting for the Peoria and Pekin delegations of nearly 700, the procession did not move until after 8 o'clock, and because of the long wait, several hundred left the procession with their torches and did not rejoin the party. There were 2300 to 2500 torches in the procession when it moved and fully 3,000 men in line. The Decatur Escort club made a fine appearance and shot off fireworks and lit red lights, while the Peoria companies painted the air red and blue with Roman candles. The wagon with fireworks added to the brilliant display, which was kept up throughout the memorable evening. Great crowds of people filled the streets and sidewalks, and the unbridled enthusiasm found vent in ringing cheers, songs and shouts of victory. The procession moved west on Eldorado to Water, north to Cerro Gordo, west to Main, south to North, east to Franklin, south to William, west to Pine, east on William to Water, south around the Park to East Main, west to Pine, north to Prairie, east to Main, north to headquarters, where the company broke ranks.

The officers and division commanders were: F. M. Young, Chief Marshal; Byron Barrett, John A. Barnes, M. F. Kanan, B. Z. Taylor, J. D. Fish, C. M. Durfee, W. W. Foster, G. R. Steele, Frank L. Hays, W. H. Elwood, George R. Bacon, O. B. Gorin, T. L. Antrim, Edward Knoble, L. F. Skelley, E. S. McDonald, Jas. Hollinger, T. N. Leavitt, W. H. Shorb, Harvey Mahannah and W. E. Bingham. The procession moved in the following order:

SPLENDID DECORATIONS.

The city along the line of march was magnificently decorated in a most lavish manner. Business houses, large and small residences, and wide lawns were beautifully brightened by thousands of Japanese and Chinese lanterns, sperm candles, electric lights, and also decorated with portraits of Blaine, Logan and Oglesby, with pretty transparencies at many patriot homes. It would take three columns of small type to give a satisfactory description of the handsome decorations and display of fire works and red lights at the residences. The torch bearers were liberal in cheering the more striking illuminations and the ladies every where waved their handkerchiefs in acknowledgment of the complimentary recognitions.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

It was "e-mense."

The illuminations splended.

The enthusiasm lasted till 10 o'clock.

The wagon with the fire works made a fine show.

The Decatur Germans and the coal miners were out in full force.

E. S. McDonald treated the Tuscola young ladies in a princely manner. There were 35 of the party and "Mac" took all to the Presbyterian Cafe at the tabernacle and gave them a fine supper

The Boody Haymakers was a noisy and cheering delegation.

All the country companies made a splendid impression.

The Tuscola young ladies with their brooms, white caps, Jersey jackets and white dresses made a big hit, and caused unbounded enthusiasm. They were accompanied by Tuscola young men bearing torches.

The march was too lengthy by "steen" or more blocks. The distance was too great for the boys, and the procession split at the old square.

The members of the Decatur Escort Club headed the procession and kept going to the close, following the chief marshal in the weary round to headquarters. The boys intended doing the handsome thing by the Peoria delegation but the Central City battalion had broken ranks to make a raid on the restaurants at ten.

There were from 2,300 to 2,500 torches in the procession, and fully 3,000 men in line on leaving Eldorado street.

The Assumption and Clinton roosters that marched and crowed in the procession attracted much attention, and caused general laughter along the route.

Decatur never had such a big political demonstration.

Had the P., D. & E. furnished cars there would have been a thousand more torch bearers in the procession from Peoria, Pekin, Lincoln, Latham, Mt. Pulaski and Warrensburg. The men were at the depots as the special train passed, but were kept off.

Logan's Eagle will be taken care of and forwarded to him at Chicago in due time.

Commendable Honesty.

The pocket-book lost by John Geddis, containing $25.60 in money and a ticket of deposit for $100 in Millikin's bank, was found by Wm. Lord, a young colored man, who works at Ermentraut's barber shop, and returned by him to Millikin & Co., who paid him the $5 reward for the owner.

Lunch To-Morrow Night.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve a lunch in the club room of the tabernacle to-morrow (Thursday) evening. Oysters and lunch served from 5 to 10 o'clock p. m. 29d2

Attention, Escort Club.

All members of the Escort Club are requested to meet at headquarters this (Wednesday) evening, for the transaction of important business.

Chancery Notice.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, Macon County, } ss

In the Circuit Court to December Term, 1884.

John H Crocker, complainant, vs Luke Tozer, Susanna Tozer and Mary E. Campbell, defendants. Foreclosure.

NOTICE is hereby given to said Luke Tozer and Susanna Tozer, defendants, that the above named complainant heretofore filed his bill of complaint in said court in the above entitled cause, that summons thereupon issued out of said court against said defendants, returnable into said court on the first day of the next December term thereof, to be held at the Court House, in said county, on the first Monday in December, A. D. 1884, as required by law, which suit is still pending.

ASSIGNEE'S NOTICE.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, Macon County, } ss

Public notice is hereby given that on the 7th day of October, 1884, C. F. Demsey, of Warrensburg, Illinois, made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of his creditors of his stock of drugs, together with his books and accounts, under an act concerning voluntary assignments and conferring jurisdiction therein upon county courts, in force July 1, 1877, to the undersigned, and all creditors are hereby notified to present their claims under oath or affirmation to me at Decatur, Illinois, within three months of this date.

Decatur, Illinois, October 17, 1884.

W. W. FOSTER, Assignee.

Right to the point

The Rev. J. E. Searles, of New York, is one of the most widely-known and highly esteemed of Methodist ministers.

Mr. Searles says: "I am impressed that it is a duty I owe to those afflicted with Rheumatism or Neuralgia, to say that a remedy has been discovered that is indeed a marvelous success. My son was greatly afflicted with Rheumatism, and suffered so severely that, at times, he was obliged to have morphine injected into his arm to get relief. While in this condition he discovered a remedy which effected immediate relief, and a permanent cure. He has since furnished it to many others with the same result. I have also furnished it to a number of persons suffering with Rheumatism, and the result has been immediate relief, and a permanent cure. Among others, I gave it to Rev. Wm. P. Corbit, pastor of the George St. M. E. Church, New Haven, Conn., who was suffering greatly with this terrible disease. I will give you his own words as written to my son, wishing him to publish the fact for the benefit of others suffering with the same disease."

What Mr. Corbit Says:

"New Haven, July 24, 1883.

"Mr. Searles: Dear Sir:—I wish to say for the benefit of all who are suffering with Inflammatory Rheumatism, that your medicine is infallible. I suffered for two months the most excruciating torture; lost 35 pounds of flesh, and was not out of my house for a month. I heard of your remedy, and I was almost instantly relieved by it. If there is a specific for diseases of any kind, yours most certainly is for Inflammatory Rheumatism in its severest form.

"Yours most respectfully, WM. P. CORBIT,
"Pastor George St. M. E. Church, New Haven, Conn."

Such is ATHLOPHOROS—a thorough and efficient cure for the worst cases of Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

Alone With a 'Phone.

The unfortunate man who is left alone with a telephone in a newspaper office has a hard time of it. He—

"Hello! Hello!"

"Is that the Free Press?"

"Yes."

"Editorial rooms?"

"Yes."

"There was a piece in the Free Press about a month ago—might have been three weeks ago. It was poetry—beginning—I forget how it went, but it was about summering somewhere—do you remember it?"

"No."

"It was published on Saturday, I think, about a month ago. Could I see a file of the paper?"

"Yes."

"Thanks; good-by."

He just gets started on something important, some article that is wanted as quickly as possible, when——

"R-r-r-r-r-r-r-ring."

"Hello!"

"Free Press?"

"Yes."

"Got any dispatches from Boston to-night?"

"I guess so. Why?"

"You know the Detroits played Providence there to-day."

"Did, eh?"

"Of course. Have you got the score."

"No. The Detroits got beat though. You need be in no worry about that, you know. Good-bye."

When that diabolical bell peals out. The chances are that it may be an important item, so no matter how a man is he feels he ought to answer it. Still—

"Ring ring ring ring."

"Hello, hello."

"Go on with the Free Press."

"Hello, hello."

"Hello."

"What's wanted?"

"Hello! hello!"

"Hello yourself. Who is it?"

"Hello. Can't you give me the Free Press?"

"This is the Free Press. Been waiting here this half hour."

"Hello! hello! hello!"

"Oh, hang it."

He hangs it accordingly on the telephone hook.

Still many people seem to think that a newspaper office is a sort of easily accessible local encyclopedia that just yearns to answer questions about——

"Rrrrrrrrring."

"Well."

"Say, we've got a bet here, have you got the exact figures of Hayes' majority in '79?"

"Hayes didn't have a majority."

"Thanks, very much."

About affairs around the city or elsewhere. Every newspaper should keep a man who knows everything to answer the constant—

"Rrrrring."

"Well, well; what is it?"

"Is the city editor in?"

"No, have you an item?"

"Yes, sir, you bet."

"Thank you, go on."

"Abram Higgins—got that?"

"Yes."

"Abram Higgins-i-n-s."

"I understand."

"ABRAM HIGGINS—A-b-r-a."

"All right, I've got that down."

"Oh, I thought you said you didn't understand. Was run over at the corner of Twelfth and Elmwood avenue."

"Yes."

"Dr. Sawbones, of 799 Graveyard street, attended to his injuries and thinks he will be round in a few days. Got that?"

"Yes, good-bye."

Constant inquiries about everything under the sun. But the telephone is still in its—

"R-r-r-r-ring."

"Hello."

"I want to put an advertisement—"

"This is the editorial rooms. Ring up the counting room."

Still in its infancy and no doubt these matters will be attended to by and by.

"R-r-r-r-r-r-r-ing.

Happy Honolulu.

The first impression the stranger gets of Honolulu on entering the harbor is that all the beautiful tropical foliage has been massed in one large garden, and that garden must be Honolulu. As you enter the harbor you pass through a narrow passage in the central reef that nearly hems in the harbor. Outside the reef the waves may be twenty feet high, but as they dash upon this coral their force is spent, and inside the reef lies a smooth, calm sheet of water of the most beautiful blue—one of the safest harbors in the world. Drawing near the wharf you are greeted by such a chattering as you would hear in no other part of the world. The natives are laughing, talking, and joking with each other—the happiest people in the world. They give and take jokes without the least ill-feeling; they are full of music, and their very laugh is purely musical; which, together with their guttural language, is most fascinating. The Chinamen also come down to the wharves in goodly numbers, and their ugly language, with its monosyllables, may be heard as they call each other's attention to this and that. Then the South Sea Islanders, or Colewa, as the native calls them, the half-white and foreigners, representing nearly every nation on the globe, make up the people which you meet at Honolulu.—Boston Transcript.

The Floor of the Sea.

It is now believed that the denudations of the land do not cover the sea-floor further than three hundred miles seaward. These deposits are four miles deep in places. Far at sea its surface is covered with very small "shell-animals." There is a patch of them in the North Atlantic one thousand three hundred miles long and several hundred miles wide. Their shells finally sink to the bottom and form chalk. In the great abysses of the ocean, however, these shells dissolve before they reach the bottom. Here the only addition to the sea-floor is made of wrecks, iceberg-washings, dust carried by the wind, pumice from volcanoes, and meteoric stones. The pumice has floated till it became water-logged. The color of the deep-sea floor is red. The accretion is infinitely slow.—Current.
